WANTED WIFE TO MEND TROUSERS

Because She Couldn't do so Immediately He Knocked Her Down.

CONDUCTOR'S BRUTAL ACT.

At the Police Station He Sald, "I Hit Mer and she Hit the Floor! Had No Regrets.

Simply because his wife would not mend his trousers for him just at the particular time he wanted it done, A. W. Schultz, a burly German who has been employed as conductor by the Rio Grande Western, tried to beat obedience into her this morning about 10:30

Schultz resides with his wife in terrace on Second South between Fourth and Fifth West streets. During the last twenty-four hours he has evidently been drinking heavily and was in a bad frame of mind this morning. according to the statements of Mrs.

Schultz handed his wife a pair of trousers and ordered her to mend them and do it quickly. She was doing some thing else at the time the order was made and because she did not move fast enough her husband rushed at her and struck her a vicious blow on the side of the face. The poor woman was knocked down and her brutal husband began beating her again. Neighbors heard the woman's screams and telephoned for the police.

Desk Sergeant Smith at once sent Driver Cannon and Officer J. D. Brown to the scene in the patrol wagon. When the officers arrived at the place Schultz and his wife were going over to the de-pot. The man swore he would get his "time" and leave the town, and Mrs. Schultz begged the officers not to permit her husband to get the money as she was in destitute circumstances and needed it herself for the care of her two

The woman's face was terribly swol ien from the blows of her husband, and she was in a nervous state bordering on hysteria. Schultz did not offer to resist Officer Brown when placed under arrest, and shamefully admitted beat ing his wife. "There were only three blows struck," said he in a loud, beisterous voice. "She struck at me. I hit her and she hit the floor."

Schultz told the officers, it is said, that he was tired of "the whole business." and was soing to "ingure out of ness." and was going to "jump out of it as soon as possible."

At the police station when asked the trouble he grinned and said: "Oh, nothin' much; me an' the old dy bad the gloves on, that's all." Asked if he had any money, he said: "Nope; if I had any money I wouldn't

He was then locked up on the charge without a chance to "skip out." GOT ONE HUNDRED DAYS.

When the case against Schultz came up this afternoon the fellow pleaded guilty but Mrs. Schultz was placed on the stand and testified against him. He got one hundred days.

The "Quo Vadis" boom has evidently subsided. This play has been before the public for several seasons past, and never before has it been presented in Falt Lake, either at the Theater or at the Grand, when it did not attract heavy business. Last night's turnout was very light, showing either that the public has had its fill of this class of drama for the present, or that the many chear versions of it have nauseated the pub-lic taste. Last night's presentation deserved the old time business and it is probably the best all-around rendition of the noble story with which we have been favored. Tonight in the Second ward meeting house and tomorrow night in the First ward meeting house will be given J. Frank Pickering's entertainment of music, mirth and art, consisting of musical novelties; over 150 magnificent illustrated views of American and for-eign scenery, with brief descriptions, filustrated songs, a fine concert program by a genuine Edison phonograph polyphone using two large reproducing norns (can be heard plainly in the largest hall;) and selections by the Peer less mandolin and guitar trio. M Pickering has a collection of thousands of views of prominent points of interest in twenty-four states. Some typical southern scenes, reproduced from his own negatives will be presented at these entertainments, including illustrates.

THE WRONG SHARP.

but the First National Bank of Denver, is "out and injured" $350; and thereby hangs a tale. The Salt Lake bank recently received a telegram from Denver from "John A. Sharp," calling for that amount from the Salt Lake bank, As it was known that John A. Sharp was somewhere in that country, and his name at the bank was certainly good for the sum, the First National bank, of Denver, was wired to pay it to the proper person. As it man in the right place, and the highly improper instead of the proper person was the one who sent the telegram, and presented himself at the Denverbank to receive the cash. The bank failed to demand identification, so it is claimed, and the wrong table. claimed, and the wrong John A. Sharp got away with the money intended for the right John A. Sharp. The fraud was discovered after the impostor had and the matter is now in the rands of Denver's "finest in the world"
